

CE888 Lab 2

Madhavan

January 2019

The Bootstrap function was created to approximate the data-sets distribution and plotted using seaborn library. The function was later extended to exercise 2 where it was shown that the new fleet was significantly better than the current fleet.